Notice

It was resolved in Exam committee meeting dated 30.4.2019 that “based on result statistics , supplementary exam of SEM III (KJSCE 2018) can be conducted immediately after the declaration of regular results, as an additional attempt”

Following the above resolution, RMAC has recommended conduction of such a supplementary exam for the following two courses of Electronics Engineering, where percentage failure is high.

1. Mathematics For Electronics Engg /Mathematics for Communication Engineering
2. Basic Electronic Circuits

It has been observed that these two courses are common for ETRX and EXTC branches.
Hence students of both these branches, who have failed in these courses, can appear for this supplementary Examination .

The said Examination will be conducted on 3 January and 6 January 2020 respectively.
Time Table is displayed on website.

Students should register for KT^(Supplementary exam) exam through google form sent.
In case of any query, students are required to meet COE .

Students who have failed in above two courses are hereby informed to attend remedial lectures as per time table.
